It's the mellowness of BOOTH'S Dry Gin that makes it so much to be desired in cocktails. Such mellowness comes only from treble distillation and maturing in sherry casks and BOOTH'S DRY is the only GIN which receives such care in its making. It is not to be wondered at that the 1st prize Cocktail in the International Cocktail Competition was made with Booth's Dry.

London Air-Mail Letter

London and the Cuban Revolt: Banker's book on the "Inner Mysteries." The Irish Sweepstake and an English Trustee: Prince of Wales visit to Cowes Regatta: The Young Marshal in England.

(Special Air-Mail Service)

ROOSEVELT'S CUBAN PROBLEM

London, August 18. President Roosevelt's message to President Machado of Cuba, asking that political warfare should be abandoned in the interests of economic welfare, clearly indicates that there will be no armed American intervention in Cuba unless complete anarchy compels it.

The truth is that any attempt at American interference will be deeply resented not only by Dictator Machado, but by all the Spanish-speaking Republics of Central and South America. Intervention, in fact, might have repercussions which would affect the economic welfare of the United States.

This President Roosevelt is most anxious to avoid. Since the failure of the World Economic Conference he has been concentrating on the South American Republics for the recovery of the American export trade. He is at this moment contemplating a great "goodwill" drive, to be led by Mr. Cordell Hull in person, in the South American States.

A BANKER-AUTHOR

Mr. Tom Lamont, the well known American banker, who is now in London, has written a book which will bring him fame outside banking circles.

It is a life of David Morgan, his former partner and colleague in the firm of J. P. Morgan. The book is surprisingly well written. It does justice to the wonderful career of a man whose services to England have never been sufficiently recognised in the country.

Davidson was responsible for most of the big banking amalgamations in the United States in the early part of the present century. He it was, too, who co-ordinated English purchases in the United States, and who, as chairman of the American Red Cross, raised over a hundred million dollars, spent mostly for the benefit of France and England.

TRIBUTE TO MORGANS

In the early days of his great Red Cross drive, Mr. Lamont relates, Davidson was speaking at Detroit. He was thrown out of his stride by a heckler who roared from the gallery: "We want to know what Morgans are doing with all these hundreds of millions of dollars they are collecting for the Red Cross."

"Do you think that a fair question?" asked Davidson mildly. "Yes, I do," was the truculent answer.

"Very well," replied Davidson. "I'll tell you. My firm's entire connection with this fund consists of a subscription from the partners of one million dollars and a stipulation that not one cent of the whole fund be ever deposited with the firm."

IRISH SWEEP TRUSTEE-SHIP

This morning I saw a book of tickets for the next Irish Sweepstake, and first on the list of trustees I read the name of the "Rt. Hon. Earl of Granard, K.P., P.C., G.C.V.O."

Now Lord Granard is a Privy Counsellor of Great Britain as well as of Ireland. He has held appointments in the Royal Household, having been a Lord-in-waiting in 1905 and Master of the Horse to both King Edward and King George.

THE POLITICAL QUESTION

When Lord Granard first became a trustee of the sweepstake the sale of tickets was illegal in this country, but there was a great volume of public opinion in its favour.

for the Irish Free State revenues as for the hospitals, and which thereby assist Mr. de Valera in his dispute with Britain, is open to criticism.

LADIES' DAY AT COWES

The Prince of Wales spent a day at Cowes yesterday. His visit was a surprise to the majority of yachting enthusiasts and holiday-makers gathered in the town, and when the amphibian machine in which he flew from Windsor alighted on the water alongside the royal yacht few knew definitely who the visitor was. There were many shrewd guesses, however, and these were borne out later when, after breakfasting with his mother and father, the Prince was seen to leave the yacht with the King and board Britannia.

It is some years since the Prince was last at Cowes. Locally it has been thought that he has comparatively little enthusiasm for yachting. Yesterday's visit was, therefore, regarded with much delight by yachting enthusiasts, who are hoping that the Prince will develop the same keen interest for Cowes Week as the King has always displayed.

It was ladies' day at the regatta, and among the competitors in an exceptional racing programme were many women, some of whom were accompanied by their husbands. Mrs. Hugh Collins, Mrs. G. Dorrien-Smith, Mrs. J. B. Pease, Miss Philippa Harrison, Mrs. H. Raynolds, Mrs. H. C. Flower, and Mrs. Arthur Colegate. In addition to these owners there were scores of women relatives or guests on board the many vessels taking part. Among these were Mrs. W. L. They were all in smart navy blue serge trousers and were as active as the men aboard Velsheda, which, incidentally, is named after Mr. Stephenson's three daughters by a combination of the first few letters of each of their Christian names.

PRINCESS ROYAL

I cannot recall a previous instance of a member of the Royal family being described as "extremely indisposed," while still, as it were, on the active list.

The fact that the Earl of Harewood used that term in speaking of the Princess Royal when announcing that her doctors forbade her to attend any more functions until the end of September or October is a reminder of the strain to which our Royalties-uncomplainingly submit.

There must be many occasions when the King and Queen and the younger members of their family fulfil engagements in circumstances which would fully justify persons of lesser rank begging to be excused. But with them, in very truth, it is a case of noblesse oblige.

Paris, August 30.

The French Aero Club has homologated the new world long-distance flight record of 5,657 miles, 659 yards, established on August 7 by the two French airmen, MM. Codos and Rossi.

The distance was previously estimated to be 5,911 miles, but revised figures show that the British record, established in February last by Squadron-Leader Gayford and Flight-Lt. Nicholls, was beaten by 317 miles instead of 571½ miles.

Hygiene over many years arises from the fact that his father was its founder when he was Colonial Minister. The Ross Institute, founded by the late Sir Ronald Ross, has concentrated on field work and area control in preventing malaria. The other Institute has been equally famous for its laboratory research on the causes of malaria. Under the unified scheme the two principles will be brought for the first time into the closest collaboration, both in London and in the Tropics.

CHINA AND OUR ARMY

An extremely interesting figure has arrived in London in the person of Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang, son of the famous Marshal Chang Tso Lin. Marshal Chang making it his life's work to restore order out of chaos in China. This is the first time that he has left China, where he was educated by private tutors for a military career. His primary object in visiting Britain and Europe, he told me this evening, is to study the military organisations, as well as the political and economic conditions. He intends to apply the lessons he has learned to make China an ordered nation, once again. Marshal Chang is to be in Britain until August 12, and if engagements and the conditions in China permit he intends to pay a visit to Scotland.

PRINCE AS GARDENER

The Prince of Wales is adding to his many-sided interests. I heard through one of his entourage today that he is taking an interest now in gardening. The cultivation of flowers has been a personal hobby of the Queen and the Duchess of York, but none of the King's sons had done any gardening or shown any special interest in flowers. The Prince of Wales' interest in flowers has been quickened by a garden display tended by the Duchess of York, whose favourite flowers are roses and violets. He is giving expression to his new interest by having the gardens at the back of St. James' Palace given a new layout.

Leek and Potato Soup
Sheep's Trotters a la Vinaigrette
Fried Cauliflower
Baked Rice and Raisin Pudding

DINNER

Mushroom Soup
Baked Salt Cod
Mustard Sauce, Baked Potatoes
Creamed Chicken and with Peas
Pineapple & Lemon Blanc Manger
Salt Cod

Two lb. salt cod, egg sauce. Soak the cod in lukewarm water for 12 to 24 hours, changing the water once or twice. Wash, put it into a pan or fish-kettle with warm water, water, or milk and water to cover. Bring slowly to boil, then simmer gently for about 1 hour. Skim, drain, remove the skin and large bones, put the fish on to a hot dish. Coat with egg sauce and serve hot. Baked or mashed potatoes may be used as a garnish or may be handed separately.

Sheep's Trotters

Sheep's trotters make an excellent and not expensive entree, they can be served with a plain vinaigrette, after having been cooked in bouillon, or with the dressing described below, which will make them delicious.

Sheep's trotters, filleted, herings, hard-boiled eggs, celery, parsley, oil, vinegar, and mustard. Chicken livers will make the salad quite refined. Cook the trotters in a good bouillon made of half wine, half water, seasoned with salt, pepper and bouquet-garni. When cooked remove bones, cut feet in halves, lengthways, put them in a salad bowl; when cold add chopped hard-boiled eggs, herring livers cut in dice, season with mustard, oil, vinegar, pepper and salt.

Creamed Chicken with Peas
Make a cream sauce, there should be 1 1/2 cups. Reheat in sauce 2 1/2 cups cold cooked chicken (white meat for formal luncheon) cut in dice and add 2/3 cup green peas, drained from liquid in tin. Serve in patty shells, on toast or on corn fritters.

Baked Rice and Raisin Pudding
Blanch 1 cup rice by covering with 1 quart water. Bring quickly to boiling point; drain and rinse with cold water. Again drain; then add 1 cup sultana raisins and 3 cups milk. Turn into buttered pudding dish and bake in slow oven about 3 hours. Stir 3 times during the first hour of cooking to prevent raisins settling to bottom of dish. Cover with buttered paper to keep pudding from becoming too brown. If mixture seems at all dry add another half or 1 full cup milk 15 to 20 minutes before removing from oven. The grains of rice should be distinct, set in creamy mixture. Serve hot with hard sauce or sugar and cream.

SPONGE SWEETS

One large sponge-cake, hollow in the centre; one glassful sherry and brandy mixed; one ounce sugar; cream; two ounces blanched almonds.

Get a sponge cake specially baked with a hollow centre, and let it become stale. Pour over it the mixed sherry and brandy lading the wine over the cake until all is absorbed, and decorate the raised rim with halved.

Open a can of Baulth fruit and fill the centre of the cake. Beat some cream to a stiff froth, sweeten to taste, and garnish the fruit with this.

MY FAVOURITE MUSH-ROOM DISH

Ingredients: Half-pound mushrooms; butter; flour; cheese; bread; stock; pepper and salt. Skin and clean the mushrooms, put them into a pan with a little stock, pepper, salt and a few small pieces of butter. Simmer gently until soft.

Meanwhile, make a good thick cheese sauce; grate two ounces of cheese into a pan, add a walnut of butter, a table-spoonful of flour, salt, pepper, and a teaspoonful of stock. Mix thoroughly and stir while cooking for three or four minutes.

To serve: Have ready squares of hot buttered toast; arrange a few mushrooms on each, pour on a little of the sauce, and put all into the oven for the sauce to brown lightly. Sprinkle each portion with cayenne pepper just before sending to table.

HONEY IS NUTRITIOUS

Three Delicious Recipes For Cakes

Honey is always a valuable adjunct to the diet, for it is nutritious, wholesome and strengthening, and easily-digestible, as well as very palatable. It can be used in a score of ways in planning meals for the family menu, and here are three delicious cake recipes that will be popular with the younger members of the family.

A delicious honey and nut cake is made from these ingredients:—2 eggs, 2 table-spoonfuls butter, 3 oz. chopped walnuts, 1 lb. honey, 1 lb. flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and a pinch of salt. Beat up the egg yolks with the salt and butter, and pound well together. Then add the nuts and honey, and the flour, into which 1 teaspoon baking powder has been sifted. Beat well, then lightly fold in the white of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Grease a cake tin, sprinkle it with flour, pour in the mixture and bake in a slow oven until a pale brown.

HONEY AND DATE CAKE

This honey and date cake makes an excellent and nutritious cake for the children. Mix 1 lb. sifted flour with a pinch of salt, and a teaspoonful baking powder, then add 1 lb. liquid honey. Remove the stones

A newly married woman was shopping, and was determined that the grocer should not take advantage of her youth and inexperience.

"Don't you think these eggs are very small?" she said, critically. "I do," answered the grocer, "but that's the kind the farmer sends me. They are fresh from the country this morning."

"Yes," said the shopper. "That's the trouble with those farmers. They're so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them out of the nest too soon!"—"Pearsons."

For Showmanship
Barney, the junior partner, burst into the senior partner's room and banged on the desk. "Our showman manager! We must dismiss him at once." "Calm yourself," said the senior partner. "What's happened?"

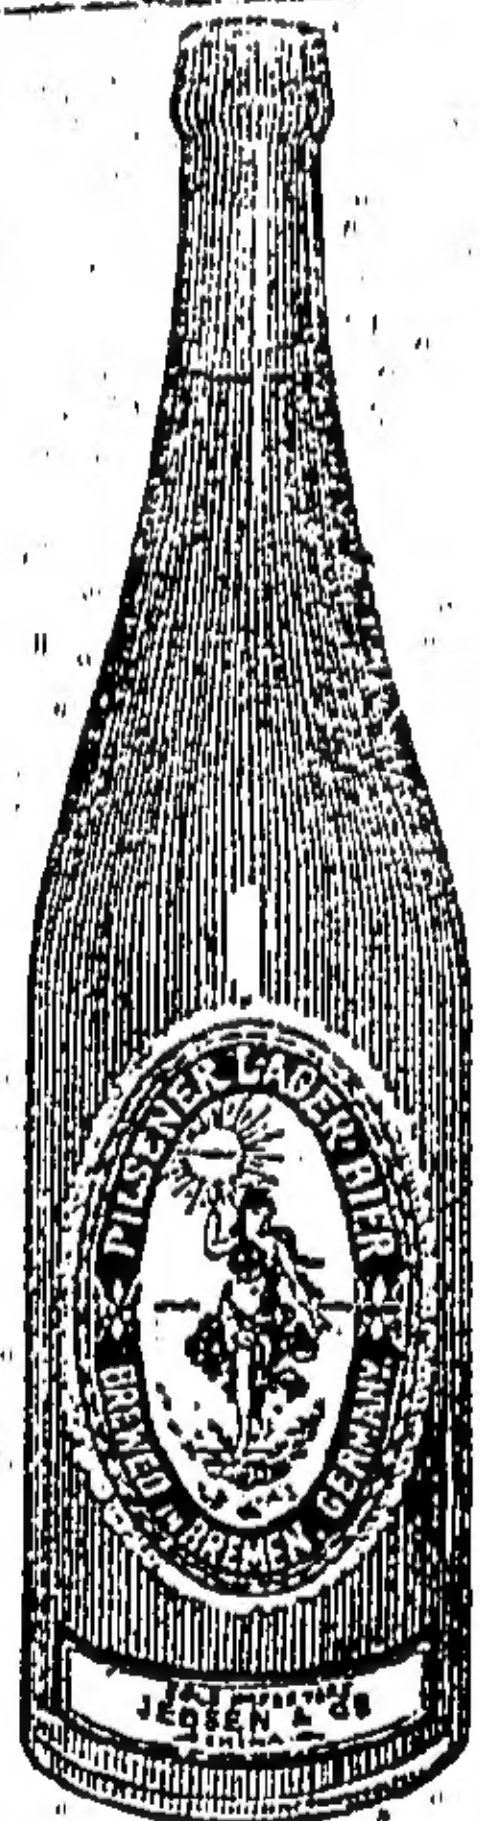

"He has put a testimonial praising our typewriters on the show-room window, and it is written with a fountain pen," Barney explained.—"Tit-Bits."

BEAUTY HINTS

By Betty

Instead of putting brillantine direct on to the hair, sprinkle a little on to the palm of the hand, run the brush lightly over it, and brush gently into the hair. Keep a special brush in your dressing table drawer for brillantine.

If you want your hair to shine like the wing of a bird, burnish it with an old silk handkerchief.

When using an eye cup, bathe the eyes from side to side as well as up and down.

A slice of cucumber-rubbed over the face, neck, and arms is cooling and helps to remove redness.

Before having the bath, massage the feet, heels, and elbows with borated vaseline or olive oil to soften any hard skin.

After cleansing the face, leave an anti-wrinkle cream or muscle oil to do its good work in removing sun-lines round the eyes while you bathe.

The Grand Dispensary have just received a shipment of the "Luck-stone" beauty preparations. The prices are reasonable thereby enabling every woman the opportunity of guarding a woman's most valued asset "A GOOD COMPLEXION."

CHOCOLATE CREAM

A cheap and delicious sweet which makes a pleasant change from chocolate blanc mange can be made in the following manner. Measure a pint of milk and from this take out three table-spoonfuls. Put these into a basin together with two dessert-spoonfuls of powdered chocolate and one ounce of custard powder. Mix them together thoroughly. In the meantime boil the remainder of the milk together with three table-spoonfuls of sugar. When this is boiling pour it on to the mixture in the basin, mix well and then return it to the pan. Let it boil until it thickens, stirring well all the time. Add a few drops of vanilla essence, allow to cool, and then pour it into custard glasses. Can be garnished with whipped cream or Ambrosia.

The chief anxiety in making mayonnaise is the likelihood of the emulsion "breaking." There are different ways of preventing this:
An excellent way is to make a roux of flour and water. Cook it for a little longer, until the flour is cooked out and there is no suggestion of lumps.

Then after the mayonnaise has been carefully stirred until it is finished, stir into it slowly a small portion of this cooked paste or sauce, a table spoon to a pint of mayonnaise. This is the safest method of keeping mayonnaise from disintegrating.

A mayonnaise may be tinted from coral of the lobster to a be-green with spinach, or coloured with nuts, fruit.

long by 2 inches wide, and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Cool and cut the top almost off leaving an inch attached, thus making a "hinge." Remove all the soft part, if any, and fill with equal measures of breast of chicken, hearts of celery and 1 cup shredded and blanched almonds, mixed with mayonnaise. Garnish with fancy cut radishes.

HYGIENIC method of Packing ASPRO EXPLAINED

PLANT THE 'SANITAPE' METHOD EXPLAINED.

The plant consists of the most up-to-date and efficient mechanical apparatus, including a number of 'SANITAPE' machines, which seal the tablets hygienically in specially prepared wax paper compartments.
This system is known as the modern HYGIENIC 'SANITAPE' method of packing, and because of its thoroughly protective properties, ensures that 'ASPRO' retains its original high standard of purity to all who appreciate the absolute necessity of purity in medicine.

The wonderful human-like 'SANI-TAPE' machines are one of the most ingenious and highly developed engineering triumphs of modern times.
The machines wrap the tablets with unerring regularity in waxed paper, divide the paper into separate compartments, crimp each compartment so that no air can find access to the tablet, fold the tapes, and finally pass them through sprays of paraffin wax,
effectively sealing the 'SANITAPE', and rendering the tablets proof against damp, moisture and any form of contamination.

ELIMINATION OF HANDLING

The 'SANITAPE' method of packing has a distinct advantage over the crude and obsolete system of hand packing. At no time during the process of manufacturing, compressing and packing, do 'ASPRO' Tablets come in contact with the human hand, thereby preventing contamination from this source. It is entirely prevented, the tablets reaching the consumer in the same perfect hygienic state as when they left the tabletting machines.

'ASPRO' BRINGS
SWEET SLEEP
TO THE SLEEPLESS

There are many thousands of people who now have sweet peaceful sleep, who hitherto hardly knew the meaning of a period of restfulness.
'ASPRO' has brought about the transformation by its sweet soothing influence on the nerves, and breaking up of local feverish conditions. Two tablets before retiring is the usual dose.

PROCESS.

The production of Acetyl-Salicylic Acid in its really purest form is a difficult and expensive process, requiring the services of highly skilled chemists. The cruder forms of this product contain free Salicylic Acid, which is expressly forbidden in the standards laid down by the British Pharmaceutical Association, the guiding authority of the Medical Profession. The unskilled tablet maker may start with a pure drug, but by lack of the latest knowledge may turn out tablets containing free Salicylic Acid, liberated during the process necessary to prepare the powder for compression. We make the following positive claim for 'ASPRO' tablets: THEY ARE MADE FROM BRITISH MANUFACTURED
ACETYL-SALICYLIC ACID, FREE
FROM ANY TRACE OF FREE
SALICYLIC ACID AND CON-FORMING TO THE TESTS OF
ALL KNOWN AUTHORITIES. THE TABLETS ARE MADE BY PRO-CESSES WHICH ENSURE THAT THEY ARE OF THE SAME
STANDARD OF PURITY AS THE ORIGINAL DRUG, AND CONTAIN
NO TRACE OF FREE SALICYLIC ACID. NO CHALK, TALC OR ANY OTHER MINERAL IS USED AS AN EXCIPIENT, WHICH IN
'ASPRO' TABLETS IS A HIGHLY REFINED FOOD PRODUCT.

HOW TO TAKE ASPRO
FOR COLDS & FLU

'ASPRO' makes positive, definite and clear claims that it will relieve an Influenza or Cold attack in one night and it proves it. You can prevent the first signs of a Cold and Flu by taking two 'ASPRO' tablets at the first signs of a Cold and Flu every three hours afterwards until the symptoms disappear; a hot lemon or whisky drink to be taken with the last dose before going to bed. It is advisable when taking 'ASPRO' for Influenza and Colds to keep the body warmly clad in order to prevent chill.
The value of 'ASPRO' for Influenza was proved in Australia when the Pneumonic Influenza Plague ravaged the country, and the Federal Parliament proclaimed 'ASPRO' a Necessary Commodity in the public interest.

EGGS—AND HOW TO USE THEM

The Key to Good Cookery Lies in the Right Temperature

Most people know that eggs can be used for thickening, leavening, binding, coating, clarifying, and garnishing, and it is indeed fortunate that we can find so many uses in our everyday cooking for this most valuable of foods. Eggs, like milk, are a tissue-building
food, and in addition contain calcium, proteins, fat, phosphorus and iron, and, if properly cooked, are very easily digested.

There is one definite rule I would give with regard to egg cookery that applies in all cases—never cook eggs at a high temperature.
There is no such thing as a good boiled egg for no egg should ever be "boiled"; it should be "cooded." Eggs begin to set at 162deg. to 176deg. F. Water does not begin to boil until it reaches 212deg.
F., so when an egg is cooked in rapidly-boiling water it is being subjected to nearly 50deg. more heat than it needs. Do you wonder that it renounces its better self and turns tough? The best way to "boil" an egg is to put it on in cold water and remove from the heat the moment the water boils.
This will give it a delicate,
tender texture, similar to a poach
egg.

Omelettes and Souffles.

The same rule applied to fried and baked eggs, to omelettes and souffles, and most particularly to custards and all cases where eggs are used as a thickening agent.
What can equal the smooth, velvety thickness of a well-made egg custard? And it is so simple if the eggs are properly treated. Too high a temperature promptly curdles the mixture, as many housewives know to their sorrow,
so when making any kind of sauce, curd, mayonnaise dressing,

FRUIT PUNCH

Excellent For A Children's Party

2 cups white sugar, 1 cup water,
1 cup weak tea, Ricksha is an excellent blend, 1 large bottle
gingerale, juice of 5 lemons, juice of 5 oranges, 1 can grated pineapple, 2 cups strawberry syrup, ice water to make 1 gallon.

Method.—Boil sugar and water for 10 minutes, then add tea and fruit juice, pineapple and syrup.
Set stand 1 hour. Strain and add sufficient water to make 14 gallons liquid. Pour into punch bowl over a large piece of ice, and add gingerale. Serves 50 persons.

Empire Salad.

Scoop some of the pulp out of fairly ripe tomatoes, after cutting them in half and mix it with some diced cooked carrots and turnips, green peas (canned ones preferably) pineapple, chopped apples,
asparagus tips and chopped nuts.
Moisten this mixture with Heinz Salad Cream, fill up the halved tomatoes and place each on a lettuce leaf.

*Some facts about Baby's milk that every mother
should know*

THE purity of the dairy milk used in Baby's diet is of vital importance—
but consistent quality is important too.
Dairy milk varies in composition according to the district in which it is produced and milk that varies is not good for Baby's digestion. Devonshire milk is richest in the nourishing elements that Baby needs.

That is why "Ambrosia" is such a blessing. It is Devonshire milk exclusively, purified and dried in Devonshire itself as soon as it comes from the cows, by a unique process that retains the important vitamins. The quality of "Ambrosia" never varies and it is many times purer and more digestible than any liquid milk you can buy. For these reasons "Ambrosia" is extensively used and recommended by Hospitals, Clinics and Doctors. It is the ideal Milk Food for Expectant Mothers, Nursing Mothers and Infant feeding.

THE MACKAY TWINS

To Perform At King's Theatre

"The Mackay Twins," otherwise described as the "boys with educated feet" will open their season at the King's Theatre on Sunday, and we learn that they will be assisted by Fred McWilliams, the well known coloured master of ceremonies and "wise-cracker."

The writer was privileged to attend a rehearsal at the Peninsula Hotel yesterday and was very much impressed with what he saw.

"Jimmy" and "Sam," as the twins are called, certainly know all there is to know about tap-dancing, and it is easy to believe that they have come with fresh successes in America. We have seen quite a lot of tap-dancing here, but these two youngsters bring with them something unique and original, and we have not the slightest hesitation in recommending a visit to the King's Theatre on Sunday when they will be on the stage in all four performances.

"BEST OF ENEMIES"

Buddy Rogers' New Film

Buddy Rogers sat in his dressing room at Fox Movietone City and told of the greatest disappointment of his life. It was when he first came to Hollywood, and after he had made two successful pictures—so successful, in fact, that Jesse L. Lasky had wired him to come to New York to attend a banquet.

"I was sitting on top of the world when that train pulled out of Hollywood. James Cruze was planning to use me in 'Old Ironsides' and Herbert Brenon had all but promised me the leading role in 'Beau Geste'. I was a green kid from the country, just an ordinary apple-pie-eater, but two great directors were making a fuss over me. 'Say, was I riding on air? I could feel my head getting bigger and bigger when the train stenographer came into my car calling 'telegram for Mr. Rogers'. It was from Cruze and it

"LAUGHTER IN HELL"Tale Of A Mining
Town

The right kind of woman is the greatest gift of life, but the wrong kind makes "Laughter in Hell" points out Universal's powerful drama which is now playing at the Central Theatre. It is impressive with its intensely human theme and characterization.

Laid in a mining town in the South at the close of the 19th Century, the film traces the youth of a young Irishman who marries a faithless girl and finds his life blasted when he discovers her in the arms of his enemy since childhood. His passionate crime sends him to the Hell of a prison chain gang whose foreman is the brother of the man he has killed. The brutalities of these penal organizations, as recently exposed in the newspapers, are graphically portrayed as the foreman attempts to make life more than miserable for the killer of his brother. Interest is heightened when the prisoner makes a break for life and his efforts to evade the reaches of the law provide the tense film with unalloyed suspense.

A fascinating and entirely different background lends the film a unique atmosphere. The action was filmed for the most part in an old section of California which remained virtually unchanged since the days of its settlement and the odd fashions of the "Nineties" add the picturesque mood the film boasts.

Pat O'Brien, is authentically cast in "Laughter in Hell" as the young Irishman who pays for his passions in the fullest measure. Merna Kennedy gives a bewitching performance as the faithless wife who finds her flirtation lead to tragedy. Gloria Stuart, Barton Churchill, Tom Brown, Lew Kelly and other screen players included.

"THE DEVIL IS DRIVING"To-Day At The Queen's

Edmund Lowe, Wynne Gibson, James Gleason, Lois Wilson, Dickie Moore and Allan Dinahurst play leading roles in "The Devil is Driving," rapid-fire melodrama which commences today at the Queen's Theatre.

Lowe plays the role of a good-natured easy-going, wise-cracker, who, when he discovers he needs a job, gets his brother-in-law to employ him as mechanic in a garage he manages. Lowe soon finds that the place houses a variety of enterprises not connected with the storage of automobiles. First and foremost, it's a centre for stolen autos—a place where the stolen cars are renovated as they could never be recognized and then resold. It's also a "front" for a luxurious speakeasy, and on a penthouse atop the structure is the apartment in which the directing minds of the enterprise live in armed security.

It's only when his brother-in-law is murdered by the gang, and his little nephew is seriously injured by one of the stolen cars, that Lowe is jarred out of his good nature.

he would choose Edinburgh. Paris is to him the most interesting of all cities.

New York still bewitches him to a great extent just as it did when he first arrived in 1920. It is fantastic dream epitomizing the humming behavior of American life.

If a sculptor should seek a model for the ideal man of the world in the cosmopolitan sense, Ronald Coleman would come as close to it as possible in a world that is getting as scrambled that it is almost impossible to tell the parsley from the green onions.

"MADE ON BROADWAY"New York's Gay
Midnight Clubs

A tour of New York's exclusive night spots! If anyone were to attempt a jaunt through all of the "rendezvous for relaxation" in the U. S. metropolis during one evening it would be necessary to make an outlay sufficient to pay off a large part of that old mortgage with enough left over to send the kiddies to the country and pay grandma's dentist bill.

But for those who would like to get a glimpse of famous and infamous folk at play with a minimum of monetary discomfort, a new picture has been filmed, titled "Made on Broadway," with Robert Montgomery and Sally Eilers in leading roles and comes on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre. It is based on an original story by Cotenay Terrett, who acquired a fund of information on New Yorkers and their habits during his many years as a newspaperman.

Park Avenue Locale.

Intimate scenes are shown in Park Avenue "clubs" where politicians gather to pull the various strings to release money from the city treasury without disturbing the taxpayer's lethargy. Speakeasies organized on a luxurious scale are reproduced for the picture and people with suave representatives of Manhattan's smartest smart set.

Montgomery fills the role of an expert in "Public relations" who manoeuvres city politics to suit his own ends. Sally Eilers is one of his synthetic creations who starts as a bedraggled waitress and becomes the toast of Broadway.

They are supported by a notable cast including Madge Evans, Eugene Pallette, C. Henry Gordon, Jean Parker, Ivan Lebedeff, David Newell, Vince Barnett and Joseph Cawthorn. Harry Beaumont, who recently scored with his work on "Are You Listening" directed.

"CYNARA"

Fine Film With A Famous Star

"An Englishman who looks like an Italian, talks like an American and is built like an Indian."

A thumbnail portrait of Ronald Coleman, returning again to the screen of the King's Theatre to-day in King's Theatre's production of the international stage success, "Cynara," is thus drawn by his closest friend, Richard Barthelmess.

To describe the famous star in seven teen words and complete a portrait as this is no mean feat. Coleman himself likes to feel that he is a cosmopolite. English traditions are deeply imbedded in his nature and color his outlook on life, but his intellect leans sharply to internalism.

In his own case, Coleman has so far declined to make an artificial gesture toward an American naturalization. He sees no point in it in his own case. If there is a reason strong enough then it is the thing to do, he says. But Coleman has a deep respect and an intelligent love for his homeland.

He was born in England, educated there spent his boyhood and his youth there, fought for her in the World War these are things not easily brushed aside by the simple gesture of naturalization.

Whenever he can, Coleman likes to travel in far places. He loves the Californian mountain. If he had to spend the rest of his life in the city, (Continued on previous column).

ECHOES OF 1858

57.—First Hint of Sir John Bowring's Departure

From all the information we can glean there seems no longer to be a doubt that this Colony is to be relieved immediately of the outrage upon legislation and upon society which it has too long grunted and sweated under. We have reason to believe that the Military Commander in Chief is to be the Governor—the Commisariat is to do the work of the Treasury—the Engineers are to do the work of the Surveyor General—and we shall consequently have something very like a clean sweep. We believe there will be a Municipal Council, but we cannot learn anything about the contemplated reforms in the Legislative and Executive Council. We are of opinion that Mr. Alcock will be Superintendent of Trade, and that Sir John Bowring will go to Manila by next steamer, which will be the last we shall see of him.

CROWN V. TARRANT

This case of the Crown v. Tarrant is ringing a most suitable merry peal to Sir John's exit—a knell to his political prospects and career. It is an adage that the devil is never so black as he is painted. The case referred to gives the adage the lie. There were but two Crown witnesses. Dr. Bridge and Mr. Morgan. The evidence of both closed yesterday and with it the case for the Crown. The termination of Dr. Bridge's evidence was not a jot short of awful. The remotest distance to Government from various high officials reflecting on Mr. Caldwell's character was read in extenso—the resignation of one Interpreter and the dismissal of another, despite the protests of the heads of the department they served, were proved and despatched upon—the dread and influence of Mr. Caldwell and Mahchow Wong were proved to be the motive power of such resignation and dismissal—the veracity of the appalling evidence contained in Mr. May's memoranda was corroborated to superfluity—the reflection on Mr. Caldwell's character expressed and implied in the finding of the Committee appointed to investigate his conduct, was brought forward in its fair and full interpretation—and with all this hurled in Dr. Bridge's face—in answer to the question whether Government had ever called Mr. Caldwell to account, he actually had the infatuation to swear, and of course, to believe, that he, Dr. Bridge, the man who ordered the papers to be burnt, did not know of anything which Mr. Caldwell should be called to account for. Mr. Caldwell's affection for Mahchow Wong—Dr. Bridge's affection for Mr. Caldwell—Sir John Bowring's affection for Dr. Bridge—are the most consistent, anomalous, unaccountable freaks of the human intellect that we ever heard of. The frailty has formed one of the baneful elements which has brought the government of this Colony to the low ebb it has at this moment been degraded to the level of.

STRONGER WEAPON AGAINST MALARIA

Ross Institute Merger Approved In Malaya

Singapore.—The fight against the greatest menace to Malaya's good health, malaria, will be greatly assisted by the amalgamation of the Ross Institute and Hospital for Tropical Diseases with the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine.

This is the consensus of medical opinion in the country according to a leading Singapore authority, who, interviewed by the Free Press and asked for his opinion of the memorandum prepared by Sir Charles McLeod, chairman of the Ross Institute, said:

"It is most admirable that the funds of these institutions should no longer be divided.

"Nearly every doctor who comes to this country receives his training in tropical disease at the London school—though one must certainly not forget those at Liverpool and Edinburgh—and it is surely to the country's benefit that he should get the best possible.

"This will be the outcome, I feel, of the amalgamation since funds will be centralised instead of divided among two, shall we say, rival institutions."

Malaria, despite the splendid advances in research work already made, still presented, it was considered, one of the biggest of tropical disease problems and the amalgamation of experienced medical opinion might go far towards finding a solution.

"In my view," commented this authority, "it should now be recognised that the most effective way of combating the disease is by making human life immune to the parasite, for once that is done the mosquito will fast become no longer a carrier—and we have no evidence that any other form of life carries the parasite.

"Wonderful anti-laval work has been carried out in Malaya in the past but it is an expensive method of combating the disease and now that the country is no longer as rich as it once was, such work may be less possible. Instead of trying to take the sting out of the millions of mosquitoes inhabitants of the country we should try to make the two and a half million human inhabitants immune from it—and then the first will be accomplished as a matter of course."

"Thanks to Adebrin and other new drugs malaria is not only one of the most important branches of tropical disease research but also one of the most hopeful."

KID BERG'S WEDDING

Mounted Police Control The Crowd

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 16.

Long before the time fixed for the wedding of Mr. Jack (Kid) Berg, the light-weight boxer, and Miss Buntie Pain, the dancer, at Prince's Regent office to-day, a crowd of men and women gathered outside the office to await the arrival of the bride and bridegroom.

The entrance was transformed into a bower of carnations. Two tall arches were erected and covered with green leaves and carnations of every hue. Over them were stretched streamers of white satin ribbon. Inside the office flowers were everywhere. A huge horseshoe of marigolds was included.

Miss Pain is appearing in "Revels in Rhythm" at the Trocadero.

Mr. Berg, in a lounge suit of light grey, with a red carnation in his buttonhole, arrived more than half-an-hour before the ceremony began.

Girls leaned out of the windows of neighbouring offices and waved their handkerchiefs to him.

The crowd had grown so large by this time that mounted police arrived to control it.

The bride arrived five minutes late.

Mr. C. B. Cochran was waiting on the steps of the office to receive her. As Miss Pain stepped from her car he went forward and kissed her.

She then hurried with him through the arches, to which had been added bunches of arum lilies, into the office.

The bride arrived five minutes late.

CHIEF SCOUT BARS DENMARK

Reply To Danish Ban

NOT ALLOWED TO LAND BECAUSE OF UNIFORM

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 18.—Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, has refused to take his party of 650 Guides and Scouts to Denmark because of a Danish ban which would not allow the party to land in uniform.

The party, who left Southampton to-day for a 17-day cruise of the Baltic ports, have cut Copenhagen out of their ports of call.

The Chief Scout was officially informed that if his party doffed their uniforms and put on civilian clothes they would be allowed to land. The Chief Scout refused to do this.

He sent a special message to the Danish authorities pointing out that the movement was non-military, and that the object of the cruise was mainly to foster international good will. The movement had no political creed.

He asked that a special exception be made in this case, but the request was refused.

The ban was recently imposed on political grounds, and forbade the wearing of uniform by persons of 14 years and over.

The party's abridged list of ports of call included Holland, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Finland, Sweden and Norway, the return being by way of the Hebrides to Liverpool.

PROFITS ON OPIUM DIVANS

New Ordinance To Deter Landlords & Principal Tenants

At Central Police Court yesterday Mr. Wynne-Jones imposed a fine of $250 with the alternative of three months on a woman, Young Siu, whom he convicted for allowing a man to use her premises at 350 Hennessy Road, Wanchai, as an opium den, she being the principal tenant.

The man, Leung Kuen, was fined $100 or eight weeks' gaol on charges of keeping the den and the possession of two mace of illicit opium.

"This ordinance was made to stamp out profits made by landlords and principal tenants in connection with opium divans," said the Magistrate in announcing his decision.

GOOD RECORD SPOILT

Scrounging By Dockyard Seaman

Chau Wah-kee, a seaman, on Dockyard launch No. 68, was seen leaving the launch on Tuesday with a parcel in his hands. Asked by an Indian watchman to stop, he threw the parcel into the sea. It was retrieved, and a quantity of white paint was found in a small tin. The paint was worth altogether about $2.

Before Mr. Butters at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday Mr. J. T. Prior, for defendant said that his client had been very foolish.

He might not have been arrested if he had not run away, but his actions roused the suspicions of the watchman. Mr. Prior emphasised defendant's long service with the Yard and his previous good record.

Taking defendant's good record into consideration his Worship bound him over in the sum of $50 to be of good behaviour for a year.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

In Opium Divan Case

The case in which a Chinese woman was fined $200, or 3 months, by Mr. H. B. Butters in connection with an opium divan in 280, Tai Nam Street, Shamshui, was reopened by the Magistrate at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

It will be recalled that the woman was charged with being the principal tenant of the premises, but yesterday Mr. J. A. Fraser, for the prosecution, asked permission to "alter to the charge to make it read 'occupier' in place of 'principal tenant'."

Mr. Hin-shing Lo was for the woman and after legal argument had been heard on both sides, his Worship reserved judgment.

Come To Kuliang!

AND SEE THE NATURAL BEAUTIES OF CHINA

ACTIVITIES OF THE CONVENTION

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Kuliang, Aug. 22. After six weeks of almost perfect summer days one feels like shouting "Excelsior" over this delectable mountain-top, which at an average elevation of 2,500 feet overlooks the Foochow plain and about 30 miles of the Min basin. Three hundred visitors are domiciled in the stone-built cottages which nestle on the hillside and in the green glens of the Drum Pass (Kuliang), of whom some two hundred may be foreigners. The great majority of these are from North Fukien, missionaries whose stations lie inland from Foochow, while a smaller number hail from Amoy and its hinterland. Besides these, there are adventurers from farther places, Peiping, Canton, Swatow, Santu, Hong Kong, Shanghai, and Nanking. I must not forget Kwelin, which sends us one delegate. This place might well be sought out by a much larger number of people during the hot months. For peace and comfort and recreation, at a less than reasonable outlay of cash it will be hard to beat. Board runs from $1.50 to $2.50 per day, and rooms can be had for $50 a season. Houses may go as high as $300 for four or five rooms and as low as $175 for three apartments. Steamers from Hong Kong and Shanghai reach Pagoda Anchorage, which brings the weary one within fifteen miles of the foot of the mountain. The rest of the way is easy by launch, richa, and finally, at long last, by bus. You can walk up the hill if you are young and vigorous, or be lugged up in chair if you prefer that luxury. Yes, Kuliang deserves to be better known. Once here, there is tennis and long rambles over the hills, rather ragged swimming in a rocky gorge, concerts, musicals, conferences, and many wholesome activities, both religious and otherwise. Four miles over the ridges will bring you to the famed Kushan Monastery where there are about one hundred placid old monks housed in wonderful temples built into the blue granite gorges, with bells and buddas, and beautiful glimpses of the wandering Min. There are other temples and points of interest nearer than Kushan, but the monastery is the classic show place of this region.

Voluntary Services.

The settlement is carried on by the voluntary services of a lot of good people who come here to refresh themselves after the long lonely year in the interior, or the busier time in the ports of the coast. The Kuliang Council does everything necessary for the convenience of the inhabitants and furnishes a model of government on the goodwill basis. Coolie rates, roads, and nearly every other public activity is looked after by committees that function noiselessly and produce their beneficent results at a minimum of friction and effort. Five dollars is asked of every visitor as a general fee. To this the Chinese police add a fee of $3.00 for police protection. These are the only required public taxes. If they can be so designated. The Thursday evening concerts and entertainments are free to all who pay the initial residence fee of $5.00. The membership fee in the vigorous Tennis Club is $6.00. On the whole Kuliang is a model of social efficiency on a co-operative voluntary basis. Harmony is the keynote of all relationships between native and alien. The consuls lend their friendly advice in times of crisis, but the mutual good of all is the guiding principle upon which practically all problems are met and solved.

Natural Beauties.

The natural beauties of South China reach their climax in the many glorious prospects which beset this rugged little hill-crown in every way. North and west, the endless upheaval of the mountain world, sixty miles distant, rises to a 4,000-foot altitude. Eastward, the sea and islands float like masses of pure azure. Every cottage has its own bit of landscape for a background, makes its own lovely picture, and leaves an ineffable image in the mind of the visitor. These summer evenings have been pageants. Jupiter, Venus, and Mars have been parading low in the west for weeks, and the vigilant lover of stars can pick out Saturn in the east just as these are setting in the west. The Sunrise from Kushan Point has been the object of many pilgrimages, mostly by the younger element, who rather revel in early rising, and a three-mile walk and climb before breakfast. The reward is great if it is a golden clear morning when the whole world rises like a new creation from a bath in the ether and looks as lovely as a rose-washed nymph.

Music And Entertainment

Kuliang seldom goes beyond its own borders or resources for talent and entertainment. Messrs. A. F. Griffiths, of Amoy and C. P. Culver, of Foochow; Mrs. R. Scott, of Foochow, and Mrs. O. Stockwell, of Minhsing, carried the burden of the musical programs with the happy success of capable and enthusiastic artists. The reading of "Midsummers' Nights' Dream," by a group of English visitors was an outstanding event and left an impression of spontaneity and poetic illusion that is seldom reached off the stage. A chorus of fifty voices produced "The Messiah" at a high average level of artistic excellence, continuing one of the best traditions of this community. The "dull and limited outlook" as well as "the mediocre attainment" which the "Laymen's Appraisal" purports to have discovered as a characteristic of a large section of the missionary body seems to be a casual observer to be very little in evidence in this neighborhood. We can recommend this group without misgiving as a subject for study of appraisers if they are in search enlightenment.

Outings and picnics for children, classes in Mandarin for language students, discussion groups and conferences on education and evangelism have been many and fruitful. Good medical service has been provided by visiting physicians, both men and women.

Kuliang Convention.

The Kuliang Convention is an institution of many years' standing and in times past it has brought inspiration and help to hundreds of people who need the tonic of the spirit as well as the renovation of mind and body which they surely find at this resort. The Rev. John Foster of Canton was the speaker, a fortunate choice, indeed, and a messenger of stimulating quality to the audiences who listened to his half-dozen addresses. The subject, "Our Relation to God in Christ" opened up a fresh avenue of approach to the reality of God, bringing help and light to many tired but appreciative Christian workers. The adaptation of thought and language to the present day and its needs, clothing essential truth and experience in an understandable form without excision or truncation, was a triumphant illustration of scholarship and devotion.

The Sunday school under J. E. Shepherd rallied the children to an active religious programme, and three adult Bible classes gave opportunity to their elders. Philosophy was not forgotten. It could not be with such a militant progressive as Professor Scott of the Fukien Christian University in the chair, whose lead in intensive thinking was one of the features of the season—for those who like Spartan discipline in things of the mind.

Several Oxford groups carried on at different points on the mountain and a good deal of interest has been shown in the movement. Bishop Hind Gowdy helped to initiate beginners into the meaning of the movement.

The conference on Religious Education, guided largely by Professor Stowe, was a searching and successful effort to find the bases of religious instruction in work with the young and with adults of various degrees of intelligence. It commanded a large participation by educators and evangelists.

A well-stocked library of English and American books has helped to enrich the vacation time for many people, and like nearly every other common activity, has demonstrated the high possibilities of community life of even a transient compass, when entered into heartily by self-forgetting people. Kuliang is a jolly place to read and be at ease mentally. I am not forgetting the devotees of the chess-board.

Some forty years ago Kuliang was located by the heat-beleagured foreigners in Foochow, and ever since it has grown in grace and popularity. May it long survive to serve those who serve humanity in China. If you wish to know more about it, write to E. Pierce Hayes, of Foochow, the general secretary of the Kuliang Council and the ungrudging servant of the holiday public.

THE TUNG WAH FRAUD CASE

Evidence By Hospital Employees

PROCEEDINGS AGAIN ADJOURNED

The hearing of the case in which three Chinese were charged with defrauding the Tung Wah Hospital authorities with regard to the re-burial of human remains at Apichau was resumed yesterday before Mr. Schofield at Central Magistracy.

Mr. Campbell, who was to have represented the first defendant, was ill and could not appear, and his place was taken by Mr. J. T. Prior of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist.

Mr. M. K. Lo was for the prosecution and Mr. F. X. D'Almada Sr. for the second defendant. The first witness called was Pang Kai, the caretaker of the Tung Wah Small Pox Hospital. He said that he was in charge of the place with another told and it was part of their duty to issue urns when required. On the 1st of May 2,400 urns were issued, he could not remember to whom.

On May 29 he received an order for more urns in the form of a chit, given to him by Cheung Kau, the first defendant.

Mr. Lo: This order required you to deliver 14,820 urns, is that it?—Yes.

Did you deliver these urns: if yes to whom?—To coolies in charge of Cheung Kau.

Did you deliver this 14,000 odd in one lot on the same day?—No. They were delivered at different times and in different numbers?—Yes.

Seven deliveries were made after the 12th of June 1933?—Yes.

Witness was cross-examined by Mr. Prior who put it to him that Cheung Kau never went personally to take delivery of the urns.

Witness: That is so.

Mr. Prior: So it's quite untrue that these urns were delivered to Cheung Kau?—They were naturally handed to the coolies to take to him.

20,000 Urns.

Mr. Lo: As regards the first order for 20,000 urns, by whom was it taken to you?—By Cheung Kau, delivery was made to him.

Mr. Prior: Obviously on behalf of the Hospital.

Mr. Lo: How can my friend make such absurd statements, it was to Cheung Kau.

Tang Hoi, an employee of the Tung Wah Hospital said that on the 10th and 11th of July he went to Apichau to check the number of head-stones and buried remains, on instructions from his Manager. He was accompanied by Cheung Kau.

Witness described the methods of checking employed and said that by the end of the first day (the 10th) 9,000 sets of graves with head-stones and 4,000 unregistered ones had been counted.

Mr. Lo: That is, the count came roughly to 14,000, is that it?—Yes.

Before you went to Apichau did you know how many there were supposed to be?—I heard that there were over 20,000.

Messrs. D'Almada and Prior together. That is hearsay.

Witness said that the next day the first defendant rang him up and arranged with him to go to Apichau again as he had discovered some more sets of bones not yet counted. They went there accompanied by some other persons and Cheung Kau pointed out five more plots of ground to witness.

Mr. Lo: Were they distinguished in any way?—No.

As the result of these five extra plots of ground how many more sets of bones were counted?—Over 5,000.

"The totals of the 10th and 11th combined, they will be about 19,000?—Pun Wah Po took the total—I do not know anything about it."

"That is you don't want to be responsible?—Quite."

Continuing, witness said he again went to Apichau on the 1st and 2nd of August, with the second and third defendants and four other men. They went over the count again and found that the total was 11,446.

Mr. Lo: Are you satisfied that the total number you checked was in fact right?—I believe it was correct but we don't know whether there was any mistake.

In other words you mean that it might have been five or six sets more?—It is only a rough estimate. "Can you let me have an idea of the limit of error?—Well, the remains were hidden."

What do you mean? You have told His Worship that you opened the edges of the area up to count?—Yes.

"Well, therefore, the limit of error is what?—It would be small. It can only amount to several hundreds at most, not more than seven hundred either way."

Messrs. Prior and D'Almada not having any questions to ask the proceedings were adjourned at this stage till September 3.

Illegal Transfer To Old Machines

Transfers bearing the trade mark of the Singer Sewing Machine Company must not be applied either to old Singer machines or machines of a different mark, said Mr. J. B. Prentiss who, appeared for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, against Mr. C. F. Lee manager of the China Trading Corporation, Bank of Canton Building.

Defendants were summoned said Mr. Prentiss for having applied transfers bearing the trade mark of the Singer Sewing Machine Company to old Singer machines. The defendants had given full information to the complainants as to where they had obtained these transfers and machines, and the complainants had come to the conclusion that the defendants had not realized it was an offence.

The defendants were giving an undertaking that they would not apply these transfers and had also paid the costs.

Defendants had further agreed to destroy the transfers, except two which they gave complainants to enable them, if possible, to trace the printers. The machines seized would be returned to the defendants. Under the circumstances he would ask that the summons be withdrawn.

Mr. Schofield, who heard the case, agreed to this course.

"BLUT UND LIEBE"

Fine Entertainment By Neurother Students

It has often been remarked how curious it is that the beautiful impressive phrases of other languages usually become hard and metallic in sound when translated into English. In support of the statement we have a further example in the words used at the head of this article, for "Blut und Liebe" soft sounding and delightful German phraseology, becomes, when rendered into words of our own tongue, "Blood and Love"—a cold, harsh phrase, and a phrase moreover which we cannot do other than agree is not nearly so attractive in speech and sound as its German counterpart.

The fact that we are English however compels us to use the translation rather than the actual German, and we hasten to explain that "Blood and Love" is the title of a satirical comedy (almost a farce) written by Herr Luserke, the admirable production of which took place at the German Club on Tuesday evening. The production unfortunately signalled the departure of The Neurother Students who, have been spending some three weeks in the colony in the course of their lengthy tour of the different countries of the world. That the students have enjoyed their visit to Hongkong, and have made many friends here, was evidenced when a large number of the German community turned up at the club to witness this the student's final performance.

A Classical Satire.

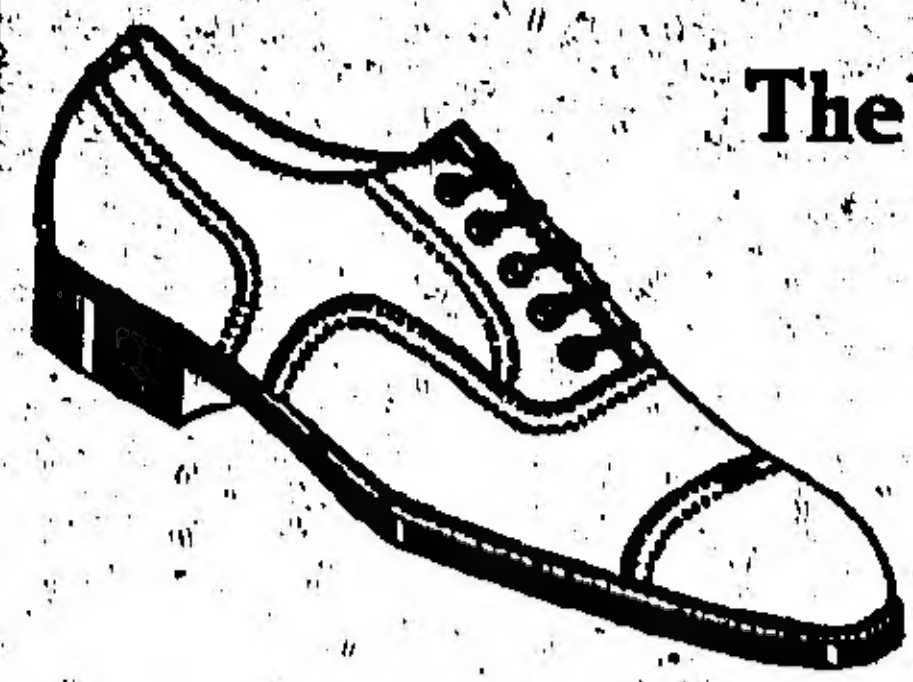

"Blood and Love" is probably a classic among the satirical plays of the period 1618-1700, and in reality it is an extremely clever parody of the combined works of Goethe and Friedrich Schiller. The writer imagines that no other play could possibly live up to its title more than this one does; "Blood and Love" is a repetition of love intrigues, sword thrusts, love potions, and poisons, through some six or seven scenes. Possibly however the amount of blood supposedly lost through the different killings rather outweighs the other ingredients.

While all the players were word perfect (and this is presumably worthy of comment owing to the fact that the play throughout is written in verse) and did justice to their individual parts from a point of view of elocution, it was obvious that they were playing under extreme difficulties, the stage being too small to permit of their doing anything more than just speaking their lines. It may seem a little unfair to individualise and state that one player was better than another particularly as these students are amateurs. However those playing the heavy and more strenuous parts had most of the work on their shoulders, and special praise must therefore be meted out to Herr H. Pahl playing the part of the hero, and to the two gentlemen, who played respectively the father and an elderly Jew. The daughter, the beautiful daughter for whom gallons of blood was shed, was a part admirably suited to the ability of Hans Grumann. Very effective lighting helped to a degree towards the success of the production.

A Fine Concert.

After the final curtain of the play and a short interval, the students again took the stage this time to delight their countrymen with some old German songs. Incidentally singing is definitely their forte, and they have been in demand at concerts in most of the countries they have visited. They were extremely popular in America, and at Hollywood took part in the making of a film shortly to be released. In this film, entitled "The Bread Line," the students played the parts of German soldiers.

Worthy of special mention is Herr Hans Riediger who is stated to possess a tenor voice the like of which has not been heard in the colony for a very long time. It will be seen that a very pleasant evening was spent, and the Neurother Students will carry with them the good wishes of the Hongkong people, and particularly of the German community, when they leave us to continue their tour in a day or so.

TOWARDS STABILISATION

By one of the ironies common enough in public affairs, and in all human life, it fell to President Roosevelt, the arch-apostle of stabilisation of currency, to torpedo the World Economic Conference, upon that point. The Conference only met because it was believed that American and England had agreed upon a scheme of stabilisation. Perhaps they had, for did not President Roosevelt say:—

"The United States of America seeks the kind of dollar which for a generation hence will have the same purchasing and debasing power as the dollar value we hope to attain in the near future."

That was the medicine when America was very sick, but the treatment had to be changed, with a haste vastly disturbing to other patients, when the transatlantic invalid showed signs of convalescence. So critical was his condition, that no risks could be taken. Prices were rising—like the temperature of a man who pulls round when life itself is ebbing.

The recovery is something of a mystery. Information from a war front is always scanty, and not too reliable, with a tendency to optimism, and America is waging a gigantic war upon unemployment and poverty. There was always the suggestion in the President's words that the stabilisation issue had merely been delayed. He wanted to see how his patient was faring and the implication was that if matters got definitely worse, or better, the proposition would come up for reconsideration. What wonder, therefore, at the flutter caused by Mr. Montague Norman's visit? Mr. Roosevelt is a past master of publicity, and knows perfectly well that no believes that the occupant of White House entertains the Governor of the Bank of England to tea, and publicly proclaims the fact, merely for the sake of muffins and eclairs. No wonder the people of the United States have a warm corner in their hearts for Mr. Norman, for it was he who acted as Mr. Baldwin's technical adviser when the British War Debt was funded.

Temporary shifts, in an entirely opposite direction are by no means inconsistent with Mr. Roosevelt's ultimate aim at a stable currency, more stable in fact than anything yet devised by finance. Throughout the long history of Europe prices have steadily tended to rise, and on the whole conditions and standards of living have been correspondingly on the up-grade. The Socialist party take it as an axiom that working class interests advance with the cheapening of money, and the process, in its entirety, is visible in China to-day, where, in remote districts, the copper cash, almost valueless in the Europeanised areas, remains the currency of the peasants. Money cannot stand still in a changing world. It is not the fixed pivot of life, but a lubricant of commerce. Such immobility is only conceivable in a Utopian world, of Spartan simplicity, where high thinking and plain living prevailed, the possession of too much money was vulgar, and the search of it a low occupation. Stabilisation in the ordinary meaning of the word, giving some kind of security to the producer and the investor, and suppressing the ill-gotten gains of the speculator, is an urgent need of to-day, but stagnant money might be worse than the raging catarract over which the currencies of the world are passing at the present time.

RONALD COLMAN FOR ELSTREE

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 18.—Yet another of Hollywood's select coterie of distinguished film actors is to act for British films. It is true that the negotiations which are at present being made to secure Ronald Colman for Elstree demand much more delicate handling than those which have resulted in the recruitment of Douglas Fairbanks, because Colman is still under contract to an American producer. That the obstacles in the way will be surmounted, however, need hardly be doubted. When Mr. Samuel Goldwyn was recently in London he suggested that Colman might act in his native country—he is an Englishman—and since Mr. Goldwyn is the other party to the actor's contract the suggestion might well be translated as "a permit."

ROYAL NAVY

Command Of The Renown

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 18.

To-day, Captain Geoffrey Layton, D.S.O., is to assume command of the battle-cruiser Renown, Home Fleet, which has been temporarily acting as flagship of the Battle Cruiser Squadron during the reft of the Hood. Captain T. F. P. Calvert, D.S.O., has had only 15 months in command of the vessel, but is leaving on his selection for the post of Chief of the Staff, Home Fleet, in succession to Rear-Admiral D. B. N. North, C.S.I., C.M.G., C.V.O., on board the Nelson.

Captain Layton returned home in the spring from two years' duty as Chief of the Staff in China, for which time he held the rank of Commodore, 2nd Class. He served with distinction in command of submarines during the War. When in E. 13 he was ordered from Harwich to the Baltic in response to an appeal for help from the Russians, who had only one submarine fit for service. On the night of August 15-19 his magnetic compass failed, and before he could rectify the error of his course he had grounded his vessel off Saltholm, where it was shelled by a German destroyer. The Danes subsequently refloated the vessel and interned her crew, but three months later Captain Layton escaped to England, and was able to render further useful service in the War. He was Deputy Director of Operations in 1927-28, and took the course at the Imperial Defence College in 1930.

DIRECTOR OF NAVAL ORDNANCE

Captain F. T. B. Tower, O.B.E., will relinquish to-day the post of Director of Naval Ordnance, which he has held since April, 1931. Captain Tower is going abroad as Flag Captain and Chief Staff Officer to Rear-Admiral W. M. James, C.B., commanding the Battle Cruiser Squadron in H.M.S. Hood, and he will be succeeded in the Admiralty by Captain B. A. Fraser, O.B.E.

The new D.N.O. returned to England last September after 3 years in command of the Edinburgh and as Flag Captain and Chief of Staff on the East Indies Station. He is 46, has had 31 years' service, and took "firsts" in all subjects when passing for Lieutenant. He specialized in gunnery in 1912, and during the War was lieutenant and lieutenant-commander (G) in the cruiser Minerva, in the Dardanelles and the battleship in the resolution, the Grant Fleet. After his promotion to commander in June, 1918, he was attached to the base at Constantinople for service with the Enzeli expedition. He was Fleet Gunner Officer on the staff of Admiral Sir Roger Keyes in the Mediterranean when promoted to captain in 1926, and in 1927-28 was head of the Tactical Section of the Naval Staff.

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

Capt. Hector Boyes, C.M.G., C.I.E., is to take over this week the duties of Chief of Staff and Maintenance Captain to the new Commander-in-Chief at the Nore, Vice-Admiral Sir Hugh Tweedie, in succession to Captain R. V. Holt, D.S.O., M.V.O., who is going to the Mediterranean to command the Shropshire.

Captain Boyes returned home last month from Simonstown, where for two years he had been Captain-in-Charge of the Dockyard and naval establishments. He was made C.M.G. for his services during the War, and C.I.E. for further service as Senior Naval Officer in the Persian Gulf in 1923-30. The son of

U.S. BUY NOW CAMPAIGN

Latest Phase In Recovery Campaign

Washington, August 30. A gigantic buy now campaign is the latest phase in the recovery programme which, in some quarters, is believed to require supplementary measures including inflation, unless the present supreme efforts work a miracle.

General Johnson's proposals include one of pledging customers to buy two thousand million dollars worth of goods.

General Johnson's estimate that two million more have been re-employed is below expectations, although it is stated the number adds thirty million dollars weekly to the pay roll and two or three months must elapse before full benefits are achieved.

General Johnson has threatened to withhold the "Blue Eagle" from Mr. Ford if he persists in his refusal to sign the code and threatening a popular boycott. Ford's hours are slightly longer and the pay higher than the code.

Mr. Roosevelt's gold order is in variously interpreted, but it is generally agreed it does not create an open market. Treasury officials assert the order represents neither official action in cutting the gold content of the dollar nor opening a free market in the immediate future.

The order paves the way for farmers and producers to obtain higher prices for their products.

RUSSIAN TROOPS MASSING

In Eastern Siberia

Tokyo, Aug. 30. According to seemingly reliable Press reports, Soviet forces in Eastern Siberia, which were recently being reinforced, now total more than half the strength of the entire Japanese Army.

It is believed they include three hundred aircraft, including a number of heavy bombers.

The concentration is considered to be the outcome of the recent conclusion of non-aggression pacts with Poland and others, plus improved relations with France etc., relieving anxiety on the western borders.

Japanese military authorities are reported to be paying serious attention, though it is generally believed the concentration is purely precautionary.—Reuter.

CONTROL OF LONDON POLICE

Big Home Office Scheme

London, Aug. 30. THE shake-up in the Metropolitan Police is likely to be followed by a national scheme for closer co-operation between the various police forces of the country.

The scheme is being launched by the Home Office and a committee is being formed under the chairmanship of Mr. A. L. Dixon, of the Home Office, whose deliberations may mean the institution of regional centres in different parts of the country on the lines of Scotland Yard.

A Year's Study. The committee, which will be divided into sub-committees is expected to occupy twelve months in research into the training of police, communications between branches and police records, and the scientific investigation of crime.

Evidence will be taken in various provincial centres on methods of dealing with crime and there is the possibility that the investigation will be extended to Continental methods, with a view to international co-operation.—Reuter.

BANANA CROP IN JAMAICA

Partly Destroyed By Gale

London, August 30. The Governor of Jamaica, Sir Ronald Slater, reporting to the Colonial Office, states that the loss to banana crops caused by the storm on August 18, is estimated at 750,000 stems, which would have matured within six months.

The loss is restricted almost entirely to big planters. The effect on shipments is, however, unlikely to be serious. British Wireless Service.

NEW ARMY FOR AUSTRIA

To "Fight" Border Trouble

London, August 29. An agreement will probably be concluded within a few days embodying the conditions in which the British, French and Italian Governments consent to the request recently made by the Austrian Government for permission to raise, for one year, a special auxiliary force of 8,000 men.

Governments of the Little Entente Powers are understood to have been consulted and to have given their consent.

The Austrian request, presented last week by Dr. Dollfus, the Austrian Chancellor, arises out of the atmosphere of tension existing on the Austro-German frontier.

By terms of the Treaty of St. Germain, the Austrian army is allowed 30,000 men, but it has never been up to full strength.

Derogation from the Treaty consists in the enlistment of recruits for a new force on short service instead of for the normal 12-year period.

It is stipulated that this enlistment will be for not less than five and not more than six months. The duration of agreement is limited to necessity, and will, it is hoped, be only temporary. It does not imply any precedent or indication of future policy.

It is pointed out that the very fact that the agreement is being drawn up reinforces the sanctity of the Treaty, since it constitutes the admission that the Treaty cannot be altered unilaterally.—British Wireless Service.

CORPS PERMITTED

Vienna, August 29. A Volunteer Auxiliary Military Corps, additional to the Federal Army is being established in Austria, following the negotiations with interested Governments.

The Volunteers will serve for six months. The total strength, together with the Federal Army, will not exceed 30,000 officers and men.—Reuter.

GERMAN WOOL MAGNATES

Now Facing Serious Allegations

Bremen, August 29. A trial likely to last several months, opened here yesterday, when the brothers Carl and Heinz Lahusen, joint owners of the huge Nordwolle woolen concern, faced charges of responsibility for the failure of the Company in 1931.

This failure precipitated the German bank crisis in 1931. Fraud and falsification in accounts are alleged, and secret banking accounts are stated to have been run by the accused men.—Reuter.

COTTON FIRES IN GERMANY

Berlin, Aug. 30. A BIG warehouse fire at Bremen last night caused the destruction of 2,500 bales of raw cotton.

Another fire at Viersen in the Rhineland caused the destruction of a thousand bales of raw cotton.—Reuter.

NAZIS RAID TYROL PRISON

Disguised As Austrian Heimwehr

Munich, Aug. 30. The whole of Tyrol is consternated at a prison-breaking episode at Innsbruck Prison, at dawn, by the arrival of a party of Nazis in a motor-car disguised as Austrian Heimwehr who entered the prison on a false pretext and liberated the Nazi leader, Hofer, and decamped after knocking senseless the guards. They proceeded at break-neck speed to the mountain pass where they were fired on by police and abandoned their blood-stained car. They evidently proceeded to Italy on foot, carrying their wounded colleague.

Seventy Tyrolean Nazis have been arrested as hostages.—Reuter.

YELLOW RIVER FLOODS

Tsinan Now Out Of Danger

Peiping, Aug. 30. MESSAGES from Tsinanfu show that despite the heavy rainfall, the Yellow River at Lokow is still falling and has dropped five inches in the last twenty-four hours.

Danger to Tsinan is now considered past.

The situation in the western area of Shantung, however, is still serious. Yunchung, fifty miles west of Tsinan is now inundated, several breaks having occurred on the right bank of the Yellow River in that area.—Reuter.

Nanking, August 30. The possibility of General Feng Yu Hsiang coming to Nanking to attend the Fifth Kuomintang National Congress on November 12, is indicated by Chen Kung Po, Minister of Industries, who arrived from Peiping this morning.

Mr. Chen broke his journey at Tsai to visit General Feng, but explained to-day that he did so in a private capacity and did not discuss political matters with the Christian General.

Regarding the retroceded areas in North China, Mr. Chen intimated that owing to external obstructions, order has not been fully restored, many difficulties hindering the execution of relief work.—Reuter.

POSITION IN KALGAN

Statement By Chiang Po Cheng

Peiping, August 30. Chiang Po Cheng returned from Kalgan at noon to-day.

Interviewed, he said General Fang Wu had agreed to give up his command without awaiting for the Government to appoint a successor, but General Chi Hung Chang is still recalcitrant, being under the influence of his Communist followers.

General Sung Cheh Yuan, who returned to Kalgan yesterday after an inspection tour of North China, has already sent troops to round up the remnants of General Chi Hung Chang's forces.

General Chi is trying to escape into Shanai and Suiyuan.

Chiang Po Cheng further said that no great difficulty was anticipated in cleaning up General Chi's men, as the Shanai and Suiyuan authorities had also sent troops to cut off their retreat.—Reuter.

$10,000,000 OF GOODS

Reported To Be Rotting In Canton

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, August 30. Facing an impending loss of $10,000,000 worth of goods stored in the eighteen warehouses of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, agents of the China Navigation Company, Ltd., owners of the cargo have formed a committee of eleven for the purpose of expediting removal of the goods from the Tsikoo godowns.

The committee has requested the City Chamber of Commerce to approach the Canton City Kuomintang and the Provincial Kuomintang for permission to secure the removal of the goods. If no satisfactory solution is forthcoming within three days, the committee will petition the Kwangtung Provincial Government and the South-west Political Council for relief.

At the same time, the Kwangtung Seamen's Union and the China Navigation Company, Ltd. are urged that the goods in the warehouses must be taken out immediately to prevent further loss sustained by the owners.

It was learned to-day that the edible goods in storage at the warehouses have so deteriorated that they have become worthless, while other commodities may be "salvaged" if the Kwangtung Seamen's Union would permit removal of the goods. The total value of commodities in the Tsikoo godowns are estimated about $10,000,000 local currency, and if they remain there longer, the goods will decay.

The Seamen's Union requires registration of the goods before they are allowed to be removed, and though several registrations have been made, no deliveries are yet possible. Owners of the goods hinted to-day that the Union does not relax the picketing of the godowns hence they have to seek the assistance of the government and the Kuomintang organs.

FIFTH NATIONAL CONGRESS

CANTON, Aug. 30. According to well informed quarters, Messrs. Hsiao Fu Chen, Chow Lu and Teng Tse Ju will shortly return here from Hong Kong following a tentative agreement between them and General Chen Tsai Tong.

FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS

Chinese Merchants Cannot Compete

(From Our Own Correspondent)

CANTON, Aug. 30. Endeavouring to compete with foreign oil importers, Chinese oil refining companies are preparing a petition to be submitted to the local authorities requesting that registration fee of foreign oil imports be raised as a means to provide a subsidy to the native companies.

These native oil concerns complain that serious foreign competition has driven them into bankruptcy and are therefore seeking protection from the government. At the same time, they suggest to cut down their own production so as to balance the supply and demand.

The South-west Political Council had already given support to these companies by abolishing the heavy import duty on crude oil from which kerosene is refined, although the new rate is proclaimed by the Nanking Ministry of Finance and effective in other provinces than those in the Southwest.

Several Chinese oil refining companies have been compelled to shut down owing to the lack of sufficient capital and poor management. Those companies still in operation are running at a loss.

Foreign oil products of 32 degrees in strength and purity have to be registered with special bureaus set up at Canton, Swatow, Kongmoon, etc. by the Foreign Trade Committee of the South-West Political Council.

DR. LO AT LAUNCHOW

Nanking, August 30. Dr. Lo Wen Kan arrived by air at Launchow at noon yesterday from Sian, where he was delayed by bad weather for three days.

He is leaving to-day for Hami, in Sinkiang.—Reuter.

that a Kuomintang Fifth National Congress should be held in Canton. Those in close touch with the Kuomintang "Generals" now in Hong Kong deny serious rift has occurred but state that the veteran leaders are merely in Hong Kong to have a series of consultation with Mr. Hu Han Min, ranking civilian chief in the South-West.

It is said that Mr. Hu Hsiao and Chow are daily in touch with General Chen Tsai Tong by trunk call with regard to the Fifth Congress and other problems and that Chow and Hsiao will return here to-morrow. Their recent departure from here is stated to be a storm in a tea-cup.

HOME FOOTBALL NEWS AND FORECASTS

NOTES ON LAST WEEK'S MATCHES

SOME OBSERVATIONS ON THE TEAMS

SELECTIONS FOR SATURDAY'S LEAGUE MATCHES

(By "LEFT OUT")

The Home football season opened last Saturday with a number of surprises, and during the week, more matches have been decided. From the results cabled through by Reuter, I have been able to make a few observations on some of the teams and these are given below.

Last year's champions, the Arsenal, were held to a draw by Birmingham in their opening match, but despite this they should be able to take full points when they visit Sheffield Wednesday who went down to Aston Villa (on their own ground) on Monday.

Leicester who, last year were saved at the last minute from relegation continue to show winning form and prove that their wins over the Villa and Sheffield U. were no flukes. With the advantage of playing on their own ground against Manchester C. they should take full points.

West Brom although they lost their matches last Saturday they ought to be able to beat Middlesbrough this week end.

Birmingham by virtue of their draw with the Arsenal, last year's champions, on the latter's ground last week, this team would doubt start favourites this Saturday when they meet Everton on their own ground.

Port Vale playing at home on Tuesday gave a good account of themselves when they defeated Bury by 4-1 and this week-end they should find no difficulty in adding extra points in their match against Southampton at home.

Millwall may surprise the public by doing the hat-trick although they are meeting a "stone wall" in Bury this week.

Sunderland is going to play Stoke, one of the promoted teams, with the odds in favour of the home team.

Sheff Wednesday should make up for their reverse last week when they play West Ham on their own ground.

Fulham will not have an easy time this week as they are playing Notts County who won their match against Hull last week.

Stadford C. Although they lost to Southampton last week, there is no doubt that they will recover their position this week when they play Blackpool at home.

Manchester U. should have a good day this week against Lincoln and should take full points.

Queen's Park Rangers have been busy signing on new talent and there will be a dozen new-comers wearing the blue and white hooped jersey. There is no doubt that the home team, Aldershot will have to work extremely hard if they are to secure even points in this Saturday's match.

DECISION AGAINST ARSENAL

The Anglo-Irish Football League Board, after a two hour meeting at Liverpool, decided that McMillan, the nineteen-year-old Belfast centre-half, is to be a League player with Manchester United.

The dispute between Manchester United and Arsenal arose because McMillan signed a contract with Arsenal and a League form for Manchester United.

According to the official statement issued at the meeting, over which Mr. J. Ferguson, president of the Irish Football League, presided, the inquiry was rendered necessary by Arsenal's failure to complete the transfer of the player in due time.

Manchester United signed the player with the F.A. before an inquiry was held, and McMillan's failure to honour a contract with Arsenal led to the dispute.

The board ordered each of the three parties to pay a sum of £25, plus the Cliftonville club, for whom McMillan has played, were exonerated from blame.

Other Transfers

There was another batch of transfers, as follows:—

James Cookson (centre forward), West Bromwich Albion to Plymouth Argyle.

J. B. French (inside forward), Tunbridge Wells Rangers to Clapton Orient.

Charles Wilson (back), Grimsby Town to Bournemouth and Bournemouth.

J. Macfarrell (back), Motherwell to Portsmouth.

R. B. Waddell (outside left), Grimsby Town to Portsmouth.

Herbert McLaughlin (back), Barrow to Newport County.

M. Sperry, amateur goalkeeper, has again signed forms for Clapton Orient.

NO MANAGER:
NO NEW
PLAYERS—BUT SWANSEA WILL FIELD
A VERY ABLE SIDE

Swansea town are without a manager, and have not signed a new player.

When asked what they intended to do about it Mr. Owen Evans said:—

"We shall have a very able side in the field. An excellent spirit prevails among the players, and immediately the season begins we intend to secure a few skilled newcomers to bring strength to any part of the team where there appears a weakness. Many teams have found the reconstruction period full of anxiety, but Mr. Evans has no fears about the possibility of finding suitable men if they are required."

A number of promising amateurs will be called upon as necessary arises. Tudor Martin, the club's international centre forward, refused for a long period to accept the amended terms offered, and it was not until quite recently that he put pen to paper.

His return to the fold solves a big problem for the Swans, whose immediate requirement was a skilful leader. Swansea are negotiating for three inside forwards of experience, and if these players join the club during the next couple of weeks the outlook will be a particularly good one.

The players as at present signed are:—

Goalkeepers: A. Ferguson, J. Walton.
Backs: S. Lawrence, W. Milne, T. Caldwell, T. Davies.
Half-backs: J. Sykes, H. Hamford, J. Miller, R. Simons, J. Craven, J. L. Jones.
Forwards: H. Blair, T. Martin, R. Williams, F. Jones, T. B. Ossen, D. J. Lewis, J. Dakins, T. Lowry, J. Reid.

WHO'S WHO

in the

SHEFFIELD
WEDNESDAY

team

Jack Brown (Goal).—The hefty lad of the side. Used to work in the pits at Workop. Played for Workop Town and helped them to draw with the Spurs at Tottenham in a sensational Cup-tie ten years ago. Then joined the Wednesday and became an international. Runs a tobacco shop in Sheffield.

George Bessen (Right-back).—A comparative newcomer to the side, from Chesterfield. Likes nothing better than a keen billiards match with a team-mate.

Ernest Blenkinsop (Left-back).—England's finest defender for years, and skipper of the Wednesday. Born at Cudworth. "Blenky" worked in the pits and played in local football. Then followed a trial with Barnsley and a short spell with Hull City. Wednesday signed him on when he was ill in bed! A quiet chap, plays golf, runs a car, and keeps a large Alsatian.

Alfred Strange (Right-half).—Played for Ripley Town, Portsmouth, and Port Vale as centre-forward. Wednesday made him a right half-back of international class and he has captained England from that position. Runs a poultry-farm at Ripley; plays golf and cricket.

Tom Leach (Centre-half).—The only local in the team. Played with Wath Athletic and, like Strange, was formerly a forward. Plays golf and spends his evening tuning in to the rest of the world. An international player.

Gavin Malloch (Left-half).—A Scot, who came out with the Glasgow Benburgh club and made his mark with Derby County. A keen dancer and has won much local fame as an entertainer.

Mark Hooper (Outside-right).—The midget of the Wednesday, and one of the greatest favourites. Born at Darlington, where he started his career—as a goalkeeper. Owns a tobacco shop in the city. Has won medals for quoits, billiards, and cricket.

Ronald Starling (Inside-right).—A newcomer to the side this season, after making his name with Hull City and Newcastle United. A keen golfer and can sing a good song.

LUZ WINS FROM BRADBURY

One-Sided Game At Kowloon B.G.

SPECTACULAR FINISH

There was a very large gathering at the Kowloon Bowling Green yesterday afternoon when R. F. Luz, an ex-Champion of the Colony in the Singles Lawn Bowls Championship, defeated B. W. Bradbury in the remaining semi-final of the present tournament.

Luz was playing at the top of his form and scored time after time when it looked as if the head would go to Bradbury. He overshadowed his opponent and Bradbury appeared to be put off by Luz's brilliance.

Taking the lead from the first head, Luz never looked like being overhauled, his shots as well as his placing giving him a big margin over Bradbury, who appeared ill at ease throughout.

The most spectacular part of the game was in the last head, when, needing four shots to win, Luz put in four shots all near the jack to score the maximum and thus eliminate Bradbury.

The match lasted eighteen heads, during which Bradbury only collected eight points.

The score was as follows:

Head	Luz	Bradbury
3	4	1
4	4	2
5	6	3
6	8	3
7	10	3

The Play

In the first head, Bradbury began well by lying three shots, but Luz managed to lay the second shot with his third wood. Bradbury did not block, and Luz carrying off Bradbury's shot with his last wood, took two points. In the next head Luz scored a touch with his second shot and with his third drew in to tie two. Bradbury could not mix it up and Luz putting a block with his last wood, managed to score two. Bradbury took a single in the third head Luz scored a touch with his second shot which Luz could not remove. At this stage it was observed that the sun was troubling both players' and they were rolling short.

Bradbury took two shots in the fourth head lying with his first and second shots and Luz not being up. In the fifth, sixth and seventh heads, Luz scored two points each thanks to some very clever play. In the fifth head Bradbury was actually lying two when Luz carried the jack to count one with his touch and one more with a back wood. The sixth found Luz scoring two touches, one on each side of the jack and following this up with a block on Bradbury's forehead he seemed to have clinched matters. Bradbury tried a drive that did not come off.

The next eight heads were all singles of which Luz collected five and Bradbury three. Some very poor play was seen here and it was not until the fourteenth head that things brightened up again when Bradbury carried off Luz's touch which in turn carried off Bradbury's touch. Bradbury, however, continued playing well against Luz's careful strategy. At the end of the series of singles, Luz scored three to make the score 17-7 in his favour. Luz in this head was lying two and Bradbury, failing to come up with his last wood, Luz drew for a third and got it. Bradbury replied with

Prospects For The Autumn Racing Season

SOME NOTES ON THE SUBS.

BY "MORNING DEW"

Training is now in full swing for the resumption of racing during the autumn. The first meeting in Hong Kong will be on September 23 and in Macao on September 17.

Interest, of course, is mainly centred on the Hong Kong meeting for which the chief event is the Subscription Griffins Challenge Cup.

The main attractions of the second half of the year's racing are undoubtedly the St. Leger for the three sections—the Griffins, Subscription, Griffins, and the Australian ponies.

It is too early to make any forecasts. The best ponies of the "Dunbar" and "Dynasty" stables are still away from the Colony and it is not known what the plans are with regard to the Leger and the subsequent Autumn Championships.

Trentbridge is very likely to go to the post, and if he does, he should not have much difficulty in annexing the honours. Jack has not been racing since the Annual Meeting, nor Charming Star, but in the absence of Trentbridge these are the ponies I should look to for the St. Leger. Cosack's Beauty is here and is looking very fit, but the pony is no stayer. The field is somewhat limited for the griffin class, as there were very few stayers in the 1933 lot.

Night Star, seems to be a cinch for the Australian St. Leger, but in the Leger for subscription griffins one would be unwise to make predictions until later in the season.

For the present the main question is who will win the Subs Challenge Cup? There are many who believe that the form displayed during the first half of the year is an infallible guide. For such people Warrington, Golden Dragon and National Day are all the rage. There are others who prefer to be guided by training performances immediately before the race. For this class there is going to be a hard job trying to sport the winner.

Yesterday's Gallops

Practically all the subs taking part in the September 23 meeting were galloped yesterday. Golden Dragon was looking a picture. Partnership impressed those who saw him. Warrington is running very well at the moment, but with all the ponies doing slow work it was difficult to judge whether he is still the outstanding sub he was at the beginning of the season.

Gay Butterfly is doing very well

a single in the next head. With the score at 17-8, Bradbury threw the jack just past the flag. This was the first short head in the match, the others, with one exception, having been full heads while the only exception was a medium-to-full head.

Playing a very short head, Bradbury committed the error of being extremely short. Luz came within six inches of the jack. Bradbury's second wood was again short, proving nothing of his first shot, but to no useful purpose. Luz rested on his first wood and lay two. Bradbury bowled one now that was a yard and half too long, and Luz bowled his third wood to rest on his earlier efforts. Bradbury was still short with his last wood, and Luz rested his fourth shot on the earlier cluster of woods to score four. It was the best effort seen in the local tournament this season that won Luz the match.

On the run of the play, Luz was a deserved winner. He will now meet Hyde Lay, who accounted for Conter last Tuesday.

at the moment and returned the best last quarter of the morning (31.2 seconds). De Minimis was also sent out and galloped well. The Panther is running much better than he ever did, and Duplex, who was such a disappointment in the earlier part of the season is now stepping beautifully and may still redeem himself!

Vigilance, Melody and Now's Time are three ponies which are the biggest dangers to the favourite. Melody is jumping out of his skin, and can race to-morrow, if need be. Vigilance is a bit backward still and Now's Time does not seem to be at his best, but don't forget, these ponies have done very well in the first half and are not entirely out of it!

Disorderly Conduct does not appear to be disorderly any longer, but I do think this pony is not "class" enough. Victor was a disappointment in the earlier part of the year, but he seems to be a hundred per cent better now. Will he account for any upset? Dairien is still going strong and at the present rate he is sure to be a danger to the favourites, although the distance does not seem to suit him. No Fear is as fit as ever and the same remarks apply to The Goat.

Jockeys

The question that is worrying owners now is the matter of jockeys for their ponies. I understand that Norman Dietz will be riding the favourite Warrington. Dietz is going to be here for some time and has been very successful in Shanghai. Johnny Heard will have several ponies to choose from and unless I am much mistaken he will select Golden Dragon. If the Panther starts, Frost will probably take him to the post. Butler will probably ride Gay Butterfly. Pan, I hear, has been booked for De Minimis, and Benny Proulx will be riding National Day. S. Y. Liang will ride either Partnership or Dairien, probably the former and Mr. G. U. da Rosa will take out either Vigilance or Melody. Ip Kui King is booked for Now's Time. Jackie Noronha will be riding again and I hear he will be given a decent mount in this race. There are, to my mind, a good number of ponies that will probably not face the starter because of the problem of suitable jockeys. I have not heard what Harriman will be riding, nor Soares, but there are so many good ponies in this race that no doubt these jockeys will take something out. Dairien, No Fear, Duplex, and Flying Boy are amongst those for which jockeys have not yet been booked!

Indian Child Welfare Clinic

OFFICIALLY OPENED BY MRS. BORRETT

The Indian Families Child Welfare and Anti-natal Clinic was formally opened by Mrs. Borrett, wife of H.E. the General Officer Commanding yesterday, when a large gathering were present to inspect the building in Jordan Road.

The military community were there in full force and during the afternoon a "dress parade" and a boys' race were held for the benefit of those present. Tea and refreshments were served in the marquee specially put up for that purpose.

COLONEL THOM'S APPEAL FOR HELPERS

In asking Mrs. Borrett to declare the premises open, Col. Thom said:

Mrs. Borrett, in spite of the heat and her many other social engagements, has very kindly consented to come here to open our new Indian Families Child Welfare and Anti-natal Clinic to-day.

Our families have to go to Government Hospitals where they can get the very best treatment but this procedure presents certain difficulties—distance, language, food and delay in getting a bed.

Each of these causes anxiety to the husbands. It is our intention to treat maternity cases and such cases which require hospital treatment that can be treated locally, thereby relieving Government Hospitals to a certain extent.

It is proposed to hold a weekly meeting, as is done for the British troops, and for this work I am going to ask certain ladies to join the Committee to supervise the work in the clinic.

You need not be afraid of the language question, there will always be an interpreter. Besides the 27 families in the H.K.S.B.R.A., there are five other Indian families who are eligible to take advantage of this clinic.

"Capt. Gore the other day informed me that I was President so I must have a Committee and I am going to ask Mrs. Borrett if she will be Patron, helped by the ladies of the H.K.S. Brigade, R.A., the Indian Regiment, the Hongkong Male Corps and the Indian Military Hospital. The adjutant of the H.K.S. Brigade, R.A. will run the accounts. The running expenses of the clinic will be subscribed by the Indian Troops and by, I hope, grants from outside."

Helpers Thanked.

Continuing, Col. Thom said that after Capt. Gore had put the proposal to him, they faced the usual formalities in getting leave to build, and in this direction he wanted to thank Col. Myles, the late A.D.M.S. Capt. Gore also did a lot by way of raising subscriptions.

In his charming and persuasive manner, Capt. Gore also enlisted the sympathies of Indian ladies and gentlemen in the Colony to whom I extend my warmest thanks for their eager responses, especially, if I may mention names, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Patel, whose generosity has enabled us to wipe off our building debt and start with almost a clear account (Applause).

In fact, ladies and gentlemen, Capt. Gore did everything except actually build this clinic which we are here to-day to see opened.

I would also like to take this opportunity of thanking the officers of the Royal Engineers and their staff for advising us as to the building of this clinic, also to the other departments who have made it possible to furnish and get the ward opened.

I will now ask Mrs. Borrett to open our Indian Troops Families and Welfare and Anti-natal Clinic. Mrs. Borrett then declared the premises opened and those present were united to inspect the building.

KOWLOON GOLF CLUB

Annual Meeting Held

SUCCESSFUL YEAR REVIEWED

The annual general meeting of the Kowloon Golf Club was held at the Y.M.C.A. Kowloon last evening, Mr. V. C. Labrum presided. In the course of his report, Mr. Labrum reviewed the various improvements made on the course and the healthy condition of the balance sheet.

The accounts having been in your hands for the prescribed period I will, with your permission, take them as read. But before proposing the adoption I should like to make one or two observations that call for comment, and to review briefly the Club's activities during the past year. I think we may congratulate ourselves on the very healthy condition of the balance sheet now presented and the thanks of all members are due to our late Secretary, Mr. Price and latterly Mr. Buxton.

There is, however, occasion to sound one note of discord and that is with reference to $390.40 which has to be written off as bad debts. I think you will agree that this is far too large a sum for a club of this size and I hope that the incoming committee in conjunction with our treasurers will keep a sharp look-out for defaulters during the coming year.

The new building loan amounting to $1,200 has been paid off since these accounts were closed, and I understand that the remaining debentures will be redeemed at the end of this year.

Improvements on Course
The following improvements have been carried out during the year. The 1st, 2nd, 8th, 7th, 8th, and 9th tees have been relaid and will be in permanent use from the beginning of September. No. 14 needs rebuilding and this will be done as soon as time permits. No. 1, across the stream, was relaid and is now in good condition whilst No. 4 green was partially relaid and should be ready for use when competitions start. The new putting green is getting into shape and should be ready for play in about six weeks. Greens and fairways are in first class condition and the whole course is one of the sportiest 9's to be found anywhere.

Our popular captain, Mr. MacKnight is responsible for all the improvements that have been carried out and the excellent condition of the course is evidence of his untiring efforts in this direction. (Applause).

The Military authorities have given us every consideration during the year and for this we tender our sincere thanks.

Playing Fields

In connection with the Playing Fields Association notice was posted in the Club house inviting members to support to this worthy object. The appeal did not receive the support your Committee anticipated, and it was decided to circulate all members. The result has been more reassuring, but there are some who have not subscribed. Donations are limited to $2 and I hope that all those who have not yet done so will send in at once in order that a sum of money may be remitted to this Association worthy of our Club. The total to date is $108.

The Club dance, although a social success, left us with a small balance on the wrong side of the account.

The roof of the Club house, which leaked rather badly, has now been repaired, but unfortunately at an extra cost to the club.

Mr. Cock's Gift
I should like to take this opportunity of acknowledging with keen appreciation Mr. Cock's gift to the Club of the interest due to him from his debentures. Your Committee have decided to purchase a barometer suitably inscribed with this sum of money.

Thanks are due to Messrs. MacKnight and Wilson for auditing the accounts.

Thanks are also due to Mr. J. H. Hunt and the officials of the Y.M.C.A. for allowing us to hold our committee meetings in their building during the year.

The report was second by Mr. H. H. Mundy, and passed unan-

"HAPPY EVER AFTER"

Bevy Of British Stars

"Happy Ever After" is notable from the fact that it is the first picture to be made under the Ufa-Gaumont-British arrangement. Lilian Harvey, Jack Hulbert, Cicely Courtneidge, Sonnie Hale, Edward Chapman, Percy Fawcett, Clifford Heatherley and Charles Reddie, are the British artists who so ably interpret the fantastic story, told in bright and airy style. Paul Martin directed the picture and Eric Pommer supervised.

Humour, punctuating the disappointments and minor tragedies of life, is the key-note of "Happy Ever After." It is a story of quite ordinary people treated from a rather fantastic angle, the whole forming a delightful pot pourri. Humour gives the drab surroundings and circumstances amusing twists and there is an undercurrent of merriment. The picture is rich in suspense values and the denouement is distinctly surprising. "Happy Ever After" is brilliantly directed, the fantasy attractively developed, affording excellent entertainment.

CRISIS IN NITRATE INDUSTRY

Chilean and Synthetic Producers Cutting Prices

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, Aug. 16.—The world nitrate industry is about to face one of the most severe price wars in its chequered history. As a whole, producers of natural and synthetic nitrates are working at about 39 per cent. of capacity owing to decreased world demand. Besides curtailed production, those engaged in this industry are now to suffer from a lowering of prices.

The crux of the present situation is the fact that the Chilean authorities cannot see their way to sell natural nitrates at prices much higher than those of the synthetic producers. The recent conference in Paris has broken down because Chile would not submit to the demands of German, Norwegian and Dutch producers. Overtures have since been made to resume negotiations, but while the parties concerned are not prepared to make sacrifices, the outlook is definitely gloomy.

The natural nitrate producers maintain that Germany wishes to dictate to Chile that she should sell her product at approximately 15 per cent. above the synthetic product. To this Chile has agreed, since Germany has certain general trade agreements which it is hoped will not be upset.

But the German Government goes a step further and insists that Chile should sell natural nitrates at the same higher price in other markets.

This is the demand which the Chilean delegates have not been able to accept. The failure of the discussions means that a recovery in nitrate prices will have to await an improvement in world demand.

HOME RAIL STOCKS

Effect Of Better Traffics

$100,000,000 RISE

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, August 16.—The London Stock Exchange is enjoying active August markets. Brokers say that clients who have not dealt for many months are beginning to take a hand. There has been keen buying for the new fortnightly Account which opens on Monday.

Gold mining shares, including West Africans, Australians and Rhodesian issues, are the most favoured speculations. These shares are now more eagerly sought than those of the South African companies which have to bear the burden of the heavy Government tax.

The rise in stock market quotations is itself partly responsible for the steady stream of buying orders. Many hundreds of millions of purchasing power have been created by the recovery which has taken place in markets this year.

The Home Railway market provides one of the most striking examples of this re-creation of wealth.

At this year's lowest prices the market worth of the Ordinary and Preference stocks of the "Big Four" companies was roughly £100,000,000. This was against a nominal value of some £200,000,000. At today's prices these same stocks are valued at just over £200,000,000.

This means that £100,000,000 of additional purchasing power is linked with this group of investments. In many cases stocks have doubled in value as a result of the better traffics the companies are now publishing week by week.

MET. VICKERS CO. AND £3,000,000 CONTRACT

State Credit Possible

(Special Air-Mail Service)

Manchester, Aug. 16.—It is understood that there is a possibility that the Government may grant facilities to the Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Co. to enable it to secure the £3,000,000 contract for the electrification of the Brazilian Central Railway.

The company's proposals for the electrification scheme were recommended for acceptance by the Brazilian Minister of Public Works in June, but difficulties, it is believed, have arisen over the question of credit facilities. It is feared that a foreign firm, with the support of its Government, will be able to offer a longer term credit than the five years suggested by the Metropolitan-Vickers Co.

Officials of the company were unwilling to discuss the matter last night, but it is stated in one quarter that the negotiations are progressing favourably, and that the Government will help the British company to give Brazil as long a credit as is desired.
